Proposes Summit Meetings With Soviet:

Nixon Denies He's Hawk

By The Associated Press
Richard M. Nixon has suggested "a series of summit meetings" with the Soviet Union and says his call for delayed Senate ratification of the nuclear nonproliferation treaty is not a belligerent position.

But Hubert H. Humphrey, who has attacked his Republican presidential opponent's stand on the treaty almost daily, said today failure to ratify this year "could mean the death of the treaty forever."

"I don't think we can afford to play political games," Humphrey said. "With anything as serious as nuclear war—with anything as serious as the possible incineration of this planet."

Danger Of War
Proliferation of nuclear weapons to dozens of nations, he said in remarks prepared for a Boston rally, "could turn some border incidents among small nations into World War III and bring about the destruction of civilization."

Nixon referred to summit meetings Wednesday in reaffirming his stand in a statewide telecast in California that although he favors the nuclear treaty its ratification should be delayed because of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia.

"That is not a belligerent position," Nixon said. "But it is one the Soviet leaders will understand. They will appreciate strength and firmness, a nonbelligerent firm policy and I believe that's why in a series of summit meetings we can find those areas where we can agree."

Debate Warning
Third party candidate George C. Wallace—whom Nixon has said he would not debate—said meanwhile any national television debate could prove disastrous to Nixon.

"I think he should refuse to debate," Wallace said in Kansas City, "because if he decides to do it then we will start talking about his record and the record of the Republican party and there is no way he can win it."

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, proposed "a new good neighbor policy" in U.S. foreign relations that insures America's support of other nations is consistent with its objectives and capacities, and is appropriate to the circumstances involved.

Be Good Neighbor
"This new policy," Muskie said in San Francisco, "must recognize that a good neighbor does not invite himself into another's home and take over control of it. Nor does a good neighbor stay away when his neighbor needs help."

Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, the GOP vice presidential candidate, said in Billings, Mont., the Vietnam war can be ended "by new national leadership, not by the present administration's second team," an obvious reference to Humphrey.

In other political developments:

Endorse Humphrey

—The AFL-CIO's 150-member general board unanimously endorsed Humphrey, rejected Nixon and proclaimed "open contempt" for Wallace. The action came at the end of a meeting in New York.

—Two leaders in the Chicago protest demonstration, Tom Hayden of New York and Renate Davis of Chicago, announced plans for protests across the country wherever the presidential candidates appear.

—House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford predicted Republicans will win 40 additional House seats in November, more than the 31 needed to become the majority. But House Speaker John W. McCormack, a Democrat, said Republicans make such claims every two years.

Tanks, Gunfire

Blast At Reds'

DMZ Trenches

SAIGON (AP) — American forces maneuvered to the fringes of the Demilitarized Zone along the western anchor of the McNamara Line and blasted entrenched North Vietnamese troops with tank and gunfire, military spokesmen reported today.

About 200 men from the 1st Brigade of the 5th Mechanized Infantry Division killed 29 North Vietnamese soldiers in a two-hour fight Wednesday a mile below the DMZ. Three Americans were wounded.

North Vietnamese troops are reported digging in around allied patrol bases along the northern frontier, apparently trying to hem in allied troops and keep the infiltration routes open.

The 5th Division troops moved out of their base at Con Thien and pushed to within a mile of the southern edge of the DMZ when the North Vietnamese opened up with mortars and machine guns. The American tanks replied with 90mm tank guns, and the battle continued for about two hours.

Con Thien is the western anchor of the McNamara Line, the string of electronic detection devices that runs from the coast inland for 11 miles and is supposed to sound the alarm when infiltrating troops cross it. It is named for former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

U.S. sources say as many as 30,000 North Vietnamese soldiers are concentrated along the northern frontier, and the U.S. Command expects another major enemy offensive in the northern provinces before the monsoon season reaches its peak in November.

Sharp fighting also was reported further south, along the coastal lowlands midway between Saigon and the DMZ.

American troops from the Americal Division clashed with a strong enemy force below Quang Ngai City Wednesday, 10 Americans were killed and 15 were wounded. Enemy casualties were not known.

Columbus Day

LANSING (AP) — Federal emergency funds have been approved for the Baraga County villages of L'Anse and Baraga, it was announced Wednesday.

The funds were requested by Gov. George Romney last July 31 to repair storm damage to federal-aid highways.

Columbia Dissidents Disrupt Registration

NEW YORK (AP) — Several hundred young men and women pushed into a Columbia University building Wednesday night for an unauthorized three-hour meeting of international student revolutionaries. The meeting was climaxed by a noisy march around the Ivy League school campus.

Eighty-three seconds later, the Delta pitched back toward earth and exploded, sending pieces of the shattered rocket and its Atlantic 3 payload plummeting into the ocean about 10 miles offshore.

Officials said it exploded before the range safety officer had time to destroy it.

Atlantic 3, owned by the International Telecommunications Satellite Consortium—Intelsat—was to have been the first in a global network of new switchboard satellites that would link most of the world. It also was to have been used to relay telecasts of the Olympic games from Mexico City to Europe.

A NASA experimental space craft, Applications Technology Satellite 3, now in position over Brazil, will be used for the Olympic telecasts instead, said officials of Comsat Corp., manager for Intelsat.

Scholarship Tests

LANSING (AP) — More than 35,000 Michigan high school seniors and graduates who have not attended college are expected to compete this fall for state scholarships, the State Board of Education said today.

The college scholarships range from $100 to $200. Tests to determine eligibility will be conducted Nov. 9 at 170 locations across the state, the board said.

Olympic Relay Satellite Fails

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A 10-story-tall Delta rocket tumbled out of control Wednesday night and exploded high above the Atlantic, ruining an $11 million attempt to orbit the world's most powerful communications satellite.

The launch director said a faulty guidance system caused the trouble that brought fiery destruction to the spacecraft Atlantic 3.

"It seems quite clear there was an in-flight failure at 20 seconds after liftoff" in the gyroscope system needed to steer the three-stage rocket, said Robert Gray, launch director for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Eighty-three seconds later, the Delta pitched back toward earth and exploded, sending pieces of the shattered rocket and its Atlantic 3 payload plummeting into the ocean about 10 miles offshore.

Officials said it exploded before the range safety officer had time to destroy it.

High Costs Keep Legal Abortions Below Estimates

By RALPH DIGHTON

Associated Press Writer

More than 3,000 women are expected to obtain in California and Colorado this year abortions which would have been illegal until recent changes in state law.

Well over half of these abortions will be approved on psychiatric grounds.

The total number of operations has so far run well under advance estimates. Some of the reasons:

1. High cost of legal abortions compared with fees charged by quacks.

2. Red Tape.

3. Reluctance of many doctors and hospitals to handle surgery which long carried a stigma of illegality and social disapproval.

These findings emerged from an Associated Press survey in the five states—California, Colorado, North Carolina, Maryland and Georgia—which were first to pass abortion laws recommended by the American Law Institute's Model Penal Code.

Significant statistics were available only from California and Colorado.

The survey was designed to states have similar legislation pending, and a move is under way to modify or repeal abortion laws throughout the United States.

The chief complaint so far about legal abortions is the cost.

In California, the largest of the five states, physicians' fees and hospital charges average $600 to $700, and much more when there are complications. This compares with $300 in Mexico and $200 in Japan. Illegal abortions in California are reported to cost $100 up.

A mother whose 15-year-old daughter became pregnant said she was forced to spend $1,800 on psychiatrist, hospital and doctor fees in order to obtain an abortion.

California's century-old abortion law, prohibiting operations except in cases of grave danger to the mother's health, was revised Nov. 8, 1967, to permit termination of pregnancy for reasons of mental or physical health, cases of rape or incest

Senate Approves Ban For Mail Order Guns

Nuclear Treaty In Peril

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said today that one of the victims of the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia could be the treaty to ban the spread of nuclear weapons.

In a report to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the Montana Democrat said the pact is in danger because of "skepticism which the precipitous Soviet action has undoubtedly aroused among the signatory nations to which nuclear weapons are not to proliferate under the treaty."

Should these nonnuclear nations ratify the treaty, Mansfield said, "they will have entrusted, in effect the nuclear aspects of their defense to the principal nuclear powers, one of which is the Soviet Union."

"What they have just witnessed in Czechoslovakia is hardly likely to provide assurances that this trust is well placed."

Mansfield's report was based on a brief visit he made to Czechoslovakia prior to the invasion Aug. 20.

It is most regrettable, he declared, that the invasion jeopardizes "constructive interchange" between East and West. "In recent years, exchanges in tourism, trade and talent have done a great deal to erode the wall of fear of an earlier period," he noted.

Mansfield praised the Johnson administration's restraint during the crisis. "Unlike Hungary a decade ago," he said, "there has been no empty talk of liberating Czechoslovakia. There has been no inadventurous cruel misleading of the Czechoslovak people."

The vice president has said that the party platform plank provides him with flexibility in dealing with Vietnam," Harris said. "But any decision on a bombing halt is up to President Johnson and the vice president obviously can't control that."

Harris said that a suggestion by Minnesota Sen. Walter F. Mondale that the bombing of North Vietnam be stepped up "to get the Paris peace talks off dead center" reflected a personal opinion and not Humphrey's position.

Harris and Mondale served as cochairmen of Humphrey's pre-convention campaign and remain top advisers to the nomination.

Pastore sided with Mondale's view that it is worthwhile taking an additional risk to learn whether Hanoi is actually willing to talk peace if the limited U.S. air strikes are halted.

President Johnson has said there must be some significant sign that the North Vietnamese will exercise military restraint before bombing can be suspended. Humphrey has backed this position.

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, has said he is more willing than either the President or Humphrey to take risks for peace.

Cardinal O'Boyle Punishes Priests

WASHINGTON (AP) — Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle, calling dissenting Catholic priests in one by one, has penalized at least 11 of them for refusing to retract their stand on Pope Paul's birth control encyclical.

The penalties Wednesday ranged from complete suspension of one priest, the Rev. John L. Fenlon of nearby Rockville, Md., to prohibition against hearing confessions.

The U.S. bishops said in a statement they joined with the Pope in calling on priests and the people to "form their consciences" in keeping with the encyclical.

He ordered the meetings after the priests reaffirmed their stand Saturday that Catholic couples under some circumstances may be guided by their consciences in deciding to use artificial contraceptive methods.

The U.S. bishops said in a statement they joined with the Pope in calling on priests and the people to "form their consciences" in keeping with the encyclical.

The Rev. Fenlon, 27, was the second of the 44 priests to be completely suspended from the ministry. The Rev. T. Joseph O'Donoghue was suspended two weeks ago.

Both said they were suspended for treatment of the birth control issue in Sunday sermons.

State, Not City To Decide Fate Of Memory Lane

While Mayor Cecil B. Chase and other members of the Escanaba City Council are in Lansing for a Michigan Municipal League meeting this week they are hopeful they will be able to meet with officials of the State Highway Commission and clear up a sticky question relating to the removal of trees along Memory Lane.

The State Highway Commission would like to have the memorial trees cut down because they are a hazard to traffic, and they want the City Council to ask for their removal or to concur in the act.

City Manager George Harvey, commenting to the Council on "the Memory Lane situation," is of the opinion that removal of the trees is a state highway department responsibility and "it should do as it sees fit without consultation with any other governmental unit."

In Lansing, therefore, the Escanaba officials will seek to inform the Highway Commission on the city's attitude, so there will be no further misunderstandings.

Earlier this year the Safety Advisory Committee of the city, a group of citizens appointed by the Council, and the Transportation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, conducted a study in which 1,648 questionnaires were returned. The replies were clearly in the majority for removal of the trees along the highway and the posting of slower traffic speeds.

The information was turned over to the State Highway Commission.

Prior to this the State announced that the elm trees (planted as a memorial to men who served their country in

UN Displeases Arabs, Israelis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Both Arabs and Israelis are openly dissatisfied with another Security Council resolution insisting that they observe the 15-month-old cease-fire.

The 15-nation council adopted the resolution 14-0 Wednesday, ending a two-week debate on Israeli and Egyptian complaints of cease-fire violations. Algeria abstained from the vote.

The resolution insisted that the council's 1967 cease-fire call "must be rigorously respected" and urged all parties to cooperate fully with Gunnar Jarring of

Sweden, U.N. special representative to the Middle East, "in the speedy fulfillment" of his mission to seek a peaceful settlement of the June 1967 Arab-Israeli war.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Teekoh said the action did not satisfy Israel's complaints that Egypt killed two Israeli soldiers and captured a third in an ambush Aug. 26, and started an exchange of fire across the Suez Canal Sept. 8.

He declared that in failing to condemn "Egyptian attacks" and demand the return of the captured soldier, the council had followed a double standard, discriminated against Israel and left it "disappointed again and disenchanted."

Teekoh said Israel would "continue to cooperate with Ambassador Jarring." But he did not promise it would fulfill the council's call for Israel withdrawal from occupied Arab territories along with Arab acknowledgment of Israel's right to exist. He conditioned Israel's observance of the cease-fire on Egypt doing likewise, saying Israel would continue to fulfill its obligations to protect its citizens."

Floyd Duchaine, 83, of 812 Ludington, died Wednesday morning at 8:30 in St. Francis Hospital where he had been a patient for three months.

He was born June 11, 1885 in Lincoln, Wis., and moved to Escanaba in 1942 where he has resided for the past 20 years. He was the owner and operator of Floyd's Barber Shop.

His wife, Anna, preceded him in death on Nov. 19, 1964. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Hazen of Escanaba and Mrs. Esther Croll of Augla, Mich.; two grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Clara Sandstrom of Neenah, Wis., and Mrs. Mabel Groleau of Gladstone.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home from 4 to 8 p.m. Friday. Complete funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Saturday with the Rev. Wayne Marcotte of St. Anne's Church officiating. Burial will be in the Lakeview Cemetery.

Scout Camp Rated High

A record was set this summer in the number of U. S. Boy Scouts who attended Camp Hiawatha. This was the second year for this new camp, which is still being developed.

The Hiawathaland Council of the Boy Scouts of America, with headquarters at Marquette, operates Camp Hiawatha, the 300 acre camp near Forest Lake. It opened this summer on June 26 and had a total of 661 boys in the summer.

In an analysis of Camp Hiawatha in August, using the "Per 100 plan" it was found the camp achieved a score of 93 points of a possible 100. A report goes to the council executive board with recommendations that are used as a guide to better maintain and improve the camp.

and sat with his chin in his hand.

The Senate bill bans not only the mail order sales of rifles and shotguns, but also ammunition for all weapons.

The House version excludes mail order sales of ammunition for rifles and shotguns, plus rimfire .22 caliber shells.

The Senate bill would make a sentence of life imprisonment possible for anyone committing a federal crime of violence—such as rape, murder, arson, theft or kidnapping—while armed with a gun.

Penalty Supported

The House measure provides mandatory sentences for people convicted of using a gun in a federal felony, but the sentences fall short of life.

There was strong support in the House, however, for writing in the life-sentence provision.

The Senate bill also would bar over-the-counter sales of firearms to nonresidents of a state unless the states are adjoining and the laws of both permit such sales.

A buyer would have to submit an affidavit of eligibility and the seller would have to delay delivery seven days to give police a chance to object.

The House version would permit also over-the-counter sales to those who sign an affidavit that their firearm was lost, stolen or had become inoperative.

Prohibitions on sales of handguns became law earlier this year in the omnibus crime control bill.

Both the House and Senate bills would require federal licensing of dealers.

Stuttering

MARQUETTE—The success and failure of stuttering therapy will be examined at a workshop sponsored by Northern Michigan University's speech and hearing clinic Oct. 2 and 3. # State, Not City To Decide Fate Of Memory Lane

While Mayor Cecil B. Chase (World War II) must be removed because they constituted a hazard to traffic. There were protests from citizens and the removal was delayed. The study results, however, showed the majority (54 per cent) favored removing the elms and the State was so informed.

The Escanaba Council feels the State Highway Commission not only has jurisdiction and authority but also the responsibility to correct whatever safety problems exist on memory lane—part of Highways U. S. 2 and 41.

One section of the Memory Lane trees extends westerly beyond the city limits into Wells Township. The study indicated there are hazards other than the trees, and that the stretch of highway between Escanaba and Hyde should be posted for maximum speed of 50 miles an hour.

The ultimate objective is to have the Memory Lane section completely reconstructed for safety, but the improvement may be several years distant because funds are not available to the state.

In Lansing, therefore, the Escanaba officials will seek to inform the Highway Commission on the city's attitude, so there will be no further misunderstandings.

Earlier this year the Safety Advisory Committee of the city, a group of citizens appointed by the Council, and the Transportation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, conducted a study in which 1,648 questionnaires were returned. The replies were clearly in the majority for removal of the trees along the highway and the posting of slower traffic speeds.

The information was turned over to the State Highway Commission.

Prior to this the State announced that the elm trees, (planted as a memorial to men who served their country in

UN Displeases Arabs, Israelis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Both Arabs and Israelis are openly dissatisfied with another Security Council resolution insisting that they observe the 15-month-old cease-fire.

The 15-nation council adopted the resolution 14-0 Wednesday, ending a two-week debate on Israeli disease, some have been removed, and others will have to come down as they weaken and die from the attacks of the invading elm beetles.

The resolution insisted that the council's 1967 cease-fire call "must be rigorously respected," and urged all parties to cooperate fully with Gunnar Jarring of

Sweden, U.N. special representative to the Middle East, "in the speedy fulfillment" of his mission to seek a peaceful settlement of the June 1967 Arab-Israeli war.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Tekoa said the action did not satisfy Israel's complaints that Egypt killed two Israeli soldiers and captured a third in an ambush Aug. 26, and started an exchange of fire across the Suez Canal Sept. 8.

He declared that in failing to condemn "Egyptian attacks" and demand the return of the captured soldier, the council had followed double standard, discriminated against Israel and left it "disappointed again and disenchanted."

But he did not promise it would fulfill the council's call for Israeli withdrawal from occupied Arab territories along with Arab recognition of Israel's right to exist. He conditioned Israel's observance of the cease-fire on Egypt doing likewise, saying Israel would continue to fulfill its obligations to protect its citizens."

Miss F. Mauhar Dies Wednesday

Miss Frances A. Mauhar, 44, of Highland Park and formerly of Ensign, died early Wednesday at Our Lady of Providence Hospital in Southfield, Mich., where she had been a patient for five days.

She was born June 19, 1924 in Ensign and has been employed by Univac in Detroit for several years.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Mauhar Sr. of Ensign; three sisters, Mrs. Bernard (Emily) Burch of Highland Park, Mrs. Howard (Anne) Kahl of Escanaba and Angela at home; two brothers, Tony Jr. of Gladstone and Victor of Chicago.

Friends may call at the Skradski Funeral Home from 3 to 9:30 Friday and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p.m. Friday.

11th District GOP Will Dine

With representation assured from all 22 counties in the 11th Congressional District, more than 350 persons are expected to attend the Republican rally to be held Saturday evening, Sept. 28, in the National Guard Armory in Ishpeming.

Gov. John Love, of Colorado, do, the principal speaker, will fly in Saturday afternoon and hold a press conference prior to going to Ishpeming. All media representatives in the district are invited to participate.

Gov. George Romney will also be on hand, and will both greet Gov. Love at the airport and introduce him at the dinner program. Congressman Philip Ruppe will introduce Gov. Romney.

Ellie Peterson, State Republican Central Committee chairman, will attend and other leaders of the party are expected.

Tickets in the hands of county chairmen since the first of the month have been taken up in a good demand. While the bulk will come from counties closest to Ishpeming, each chairman has indicated sales that will make it truly a district meeting. Delta County tickets may be purchased from GOP County Chairman Arthur Neiman or GOP County Treasurer Forrest Henslee.

All sales will be credited to the county of origin to assist them in meeting their own quotas with the State Republican Finance Committee.

increase was even greater than previously reported. Revised data indicate the quarterly advance was more than $1 billion higher than previously reported, raising the increase to $21.5 billion.

The higher second quarter figure raised the annual rate of the GNP on the basis of first half performance to $552.9 billion. The report did not attempt to forecast the exact amount of the third quarter increase, except to say that it should "not match the very large quarterly gains registered in the first half of 1968."

The first quarter increase in the GNP was $30.1 billion. Concerned because the rises are largely the reflection of growing inflation rather than "real" growth of the economy, the administration had reportedly been hoping to tame the GNP sufficiently to hold the third quarter increase to about $10 billion.

But informed sources have been saying privately in recent days that this was too much to hope for and that the rise would probably be on the high side of $15 billion.

The analysis of the office of business economics said the third quarter gain might have matched those of the first half except for a major reduction in inventory investment.

The sizable upward revision of the increase for the second quarter was caused by refinement of data in two major sectors, net exports and business inventory changes, the office said.

Playful Trudeau Irks Tie Makers

NEW YORK (AP) — The Men's Tie Foundation Inc. is fit to be tied over a photograph of Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau playfully wrapping a tie around his neck in garrote fashion after accepting it as a gift from the National Press Club in Ottawa.

Myron H. Ackerman, foundation president, mailed Trudeau another gift Wednesday and enclosed a note pointing out that National Tie Week opens next Monday and saying, tongue-in-cheek, "When the choke's on you, the joke's on us."

Prepackaged Food Gains Acceptance

EAST LANSING (AP) — An agriculture marketing specialist at Michigan State University predicts a coming growth in the sales volume of prepackaged foods and produce.

"Within the past three or four years, these prepackaged items have gained much wider acceptance," said Glen G. Aptek, who helps market the produce of southwest Michigan fruit and vegetable growers.

"Brand names and other identifying marks which can be seen by the consumer inspire confidence in the produce and eliminate much of the squeezing and visual inspection," Aptek said.

"When produce is prepackaged at the shipping point, growers can let consumers know where and by whom it was grown."

Use of prepackaged foods leads to less pilferage, less spoilage and neater store displays, he added.

Plane Of Future Uses Short Run

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Is this the "personal plane" of the future?

It takes off and lands in 20 feet. It cruises at 120 miles an hour over a 300-mile range with a load of 350 pounds including two passengers.

It costs $16,000—the price of two luxury cars, but half the price of the cheapest helicopter.

It looks like a helicopter, but with some important differences: It can't hover or fly backward, but it's simpler in design and easier to maintain.

The vehicle, called an autogyro, was publicly tested on a golf course Tuesday, signaling the return of a 40-year-old flight principle to small-aircraft design.

Officials of McCulloch Aircraft Corp. said it was built for sportmen, business executives and farm operators who want to fly from point to point without going into congested airports. In the future, they said, such aircraft might be used for commuting.

Company President Lawrence C. Mattare said more than 100 have been ordered and that 350 will be made next year after start of production in January at the firm's El Segundo, Calif., plant.

Autogyros differ from helicopters mainly in that their rotors are not powered in flight. They spin freely, providing lift just as do an airplane's wings. Forward motion comes from a pusher propeller behind the cabin and between twin booms supporting two vertical rudders.

Tax Doesn't Halt Rise In Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department predicted today the Gross National Product "will show a substantial increase" for the third quarter. This was the first official acknowledgement that the GNP is not being curbed by the tax surcharge.

At the same time, the department's office of business economics said the second quarter increase was even greater than previously reported. Revised data indicate the quarterly advance was more than $1 billion higher than previously reported, raising the increase to $21.5 billion.

The higher second quarter figure raised the annual rate of the GNP on the basis of first half performance to $852.9 billion. The report did not attempt to forecast the exact amount of the third quarter increase, except to say that it should "not match the very large quarterly gains registered in the first half of 1968."

The first quarter increase in the GNP was $20.1 billion. Concerned because the rises are largely the reflection of growing inflation rather than "real" growth of the economy, the administration had reportedly been hoping to tame the GNP sufficiently to hold the third quarter increase to about $10 billion.

The analysis of the office of business economics said the third quarter gain might have matched those of the first half except for a major reduction in inventory investment.

The sizable upward revision of the increase for the second quarter was caused by refinements of data in two major sectors, net exports and business inventory changes, the office said.

The Missionary Towers

On Friday in Sault Ste. Marie where the St. Mary's River courses down over the rapids that gave the Sault its French name the Shrine of the Missionaries Towers are being opened to the public for the first time.

The tallest thing on the horizon where the United States and Canada come together at the St. Mary's, the towers are a later age's memorial to a group of men — not well remembered — who opened the American Midwest. They were missionaries, carrying the Christian faith to the Indians in a time of warfare and flight to which the early French themselves contributed by using their firearms to help the Canadian tribes defeat the fierce Iroquois of what's now New York State.

The Shrine of the Missionaries marks two great firsts in the Upper Peninsula.

It is the most massive monument which the Peninsula has erected as a historical marker.

It is the greatest commercial enterprise which the Peninsula has attempted as a historical venture in the recreation business. There have been larger expenditures on recreation in the U. P., but nothing compared to the more than $800,000 being invested in this first segment of a great historical complex.

This is the sort of thing that we have been saying for a half century that we need in the Upper Peninsula: a dramatization of our great history, unmatched in all America's heartland, so that our own people and our guests can learn with modern visual aids this largely forgotten lesson on America's past.

It is a sad commentary but an apt one that most persons go through the Sault — the most historic city in Michigan after Detroit and Detroit's predecessor — without knowing that they're with great ghosts of the past. This is the site of Repentigny's Seignory, a great estate of New France.

Here is 1641 the Jesuit missionaries Father Isaac Jogues and Father Charles Raymbault named the rapids Sault de Sainte Marie and conducted for the Indians the first Christian religious services held on Michigan soil. Father Jogues, mutilated by the Indians in torture that cut off his fingers was later killed by the Iroquois. A church in the Sault today is named for this martyr.

Many Black Robes came after Jogues and Raymbault; Father Jacques Marquette, who founded the mission at the Sault in 1668; Father Rene Menard on a mission to the Hurons in 1660; Father Claude Allouez in 1665; Father Claude Dablon, and others.

They labored with the Indians in great hardships and dangers and defined the Great Lakes and mapped the courses of travel. With them, and especially after them came the traders and fur buyers, and then the fishermen, the lumbermen and the miners who founded the pioneer settlements.

It is fitting that here at the Sault, where white men made their first visitations, missions and settlements in Michigan, that we now have the soaring columns of a tower dedicated to the brave men of faith who begin the civilized history of our area.

If Not Obnoxious

Herewith the statement issued by Stanford University Student Body President Denis Hayes on the announcement that Dr. Kenneth S. Pitser, president of Rice University, had been named new president of Stanford:

The appointment . . . without benefit of student participation or even student advice, represents a gross abuse by the Stanford trustees of the legal powers vested in them.

No students were asked to meet Dr. Pitser prior to his selection, nor were any of us granted access to his files. We were not even informed that he was under consideration, so that we could have conducted some research of our own.

Student Hayes also complains that no sampling of Rice University students' opinions about Pitser were made.

In an age where the relationship of a university president to his students is of such critical importance, this kind of investigatory negligence is inexcusable.

It must be noted that Hayes, exercising his office as spokesman for all the thousands of the university's students, knows nothing about the new president and has nothing on or against him. That does not stop him from going on at length expressing in Eng. Lit. term paper language his vague doubts about the man or castigating the Stanford trustees for their temerity and questioning their wisdom.

Times have changed, of course, and the relationship of a university president to his students is undeniably of critical importance today. But if this is an example of the so-called "campus revolution," old folks over 30 may perhaps be excused if they wonder if it is an entirely desirable thing.

Young people can at times, be presumptuous. Even obnoxious.

Bulk Slows Mail

Tired of hearing about what lousy service the Post Office is giving, a postal worker has come up with some interesting statistics to illustrate what a massive job the department is faced with.

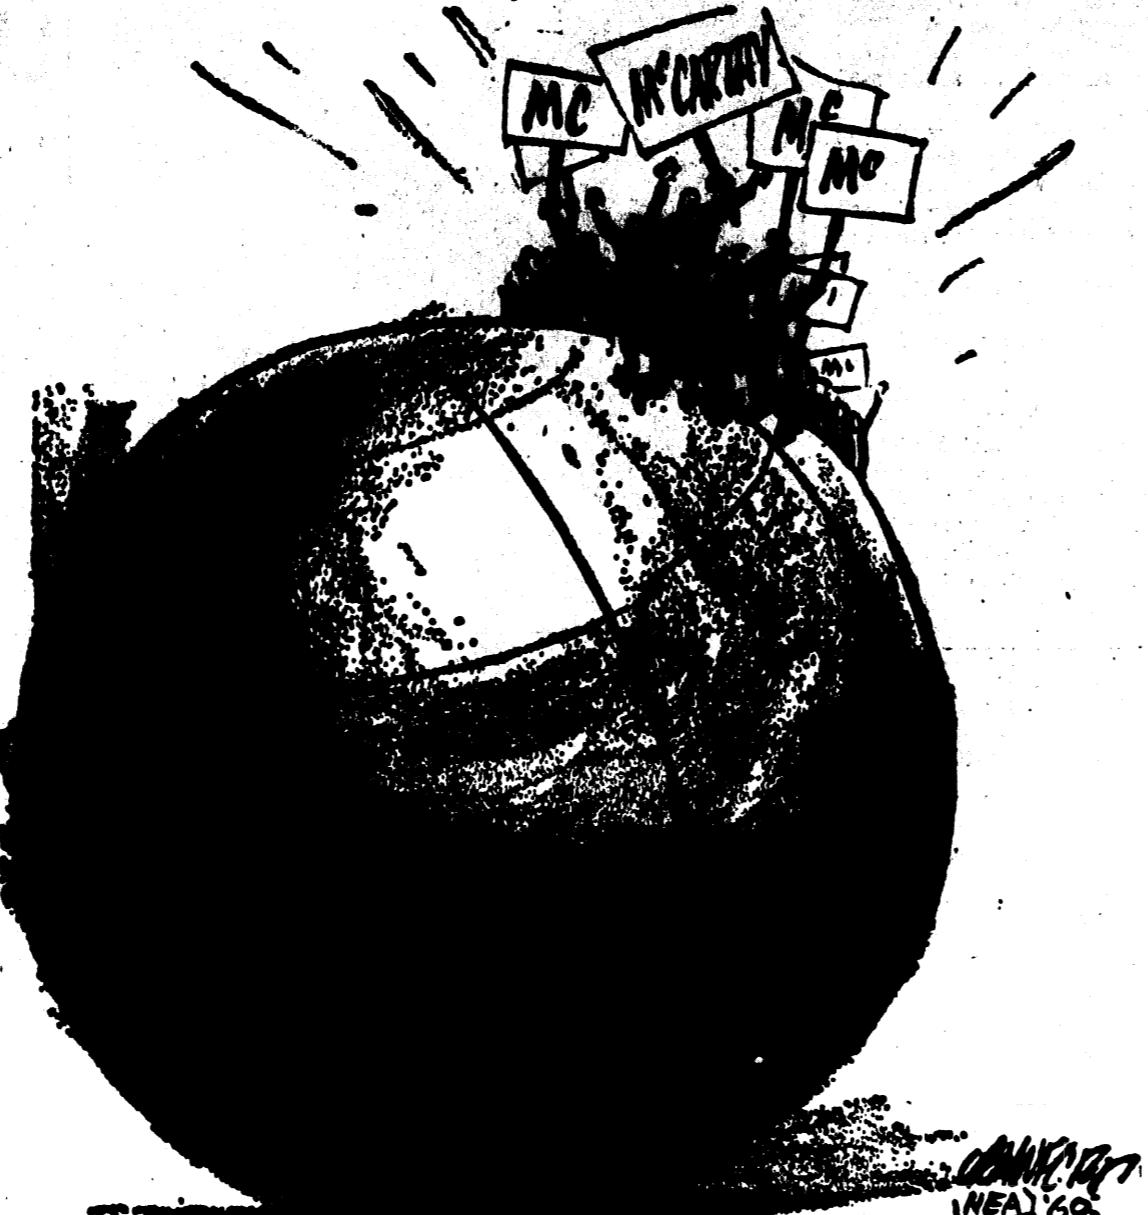

In 1967, the postal system handled about 80 billion pieces of mail. For 1968, the total is expected to be 85 billion.

If the 8 billion letters in this one-year increase were stacked one on top of the other they would make a pile 2,100 miles high.

If all the 85 billion letters were stacked up, they would make 55,000 miles into space, or nearly a quarter of the way to the moon.

There's the solution to the mail problem: Write skinnier letters.

European Art Today Sponsored By Mead

DAYTON — The first major exhibition of contemporary European paintings to be sponsored by a private corporation and exhibited in both Europe and the United States will open at the Louvre in Paris on Thursday, Sept. 27.

Following its showing in France, the exhibition, entitled "European Painters Today," will travel to major museums in

New York, Washington, D.C., Chicago, Atlanta and Dayton. The Mead Corp. announced the plans at an opening for its private collection of art on exhibit at the University of Dayton.

The Honorable R. Sargent Shriver, U.S. Ambassador to France, will officially open the European exhibition at the Musee des Arts Decoratifs at the Louvre during a special preview ceremony on Sept. 26. The new Mead exhibition includes approximately 80 works by 50 artists from nine European countries. The show will present current trends in European art. The works were selected by four internationally prominent museum directors.

They are Francois Mathey, director of the Musee des Arts Decoratifs of the Louvre in Paris; E. L. de Wilde, director of the Stedelijk Museum in Amsterdam; Werner Schmalenbach, director of the Kunstmuseum Nordrhein-Westfalen in Dusseldorf; and Kynaston McShine, former curator of painting and sculpture of the Jewish Museum in New York City.

Mead, the sponsoring corporation, is a leading manufacturer of paper, packaging, educational supplies and other products. Headquartered in Dayton, Mead has mills and plants throughout the U.S. and in a dozen nations abroad. The company has carried on programs in the United States in support of art since 1955. The Mead Corp. Collection, acquired during these programs, is currently on a tour of 12 American college campuses.

The European exhibition will remain at the Musee des Arts Decoratifs at the Louvre for seven weeks. It will begin its U.S. tour at the Jewish Museum in New York on Jan. 21, 1969.

Among the well-known artists represented in "European Painters Today" are Hundertwasser of Austria; Rene Magritte of Belgium; Francis Bacon, Bridget Riley and Richard Smith of England; Yves Klein, Martial Raynes and Victor Vasarely of France; Helmut Mack of Germany; Woody van Aken of Holland; Piero Dorazio of Italy; Antonio Tapies of Spain; and Oyvind Fahlstrom of Sweden.

The exhibition and tour were developed over a four-year period during which Mead executives met with many European and American art experts.

The company's motivation was explained by James W. McSweeney, executive vice president and member of the president's office of The Mead Corp., who said, "As businessmen of a multi-national company, we feel art speaks an international language that helps to bind people and nations in mutual understanding of our time. We at Mead are proud to have an opportunity to sponsor an exhibition of the works of outstanding European artists."

In addition to its New York and Paris showings, "European Painters Today" will be presented by The Mead Corp. at The National Collection of Fine Arts, The Smithsonian Institution, in Washington, D.C.; the Museum of Contemporary Art in Chicago; The High Museum of Art in Atlanta, Georgia; and the Dayton Art Institute in Dayton.

The above views are my own personal ones; however, I know that all of my co-workers on the B. U. S. (Better Understanding of Schools) Committee join with me to say again that we are sorry that Mr. Hayes felt he must resign and we also feel that he tried to give us the information that was his to give.

Mrs. James Hughes
Gross Area
Escanaba Public School District

The only thing that keeps me going on, and I will do so, is my own firm conviction that I am right in doing these things. If we find our decisions changing, it must mean that we were not thoroughly convinced to begin with, not necessarily that we were wrong. Then it behooves us to seek more knowledge and information so as to make decisions economically and morally strong enough to withstand the hardest of unmerciful attacks upon our integrity and character!

The above views are my own personal ones; however, I know that all of my co-workers on the B. U. S. (Better Understanding of Schools) Committee join with me to say again that we are sorry that Mr. Hayes felt he must resign and we also feel that he tried to give us the information that was his to give.

Mrs. James Hughes
Gross Area
Escanaba Public School District

It seems beyond question that there is no amount of build-up in police armament that can alone solve our current social problems. We must be willing to support this other kind of project to an equal or preferably even greater extent. It can be disheartening and discouraging, however, to realize how many there are in this country who believe in allocating money to the task of policing the "have-nots" of our society, "keeping them in their place" — but who somehow regard it as "wasteful" to spend money for education and job-training and physical rehabilitation for those whose real potential is merely "buried," but who can with help — as Chayler has proved — move from a state of "unemployable" into productive and self-sustaining work.

I think that we owe communities like Chayler Corp. a vote of gratitude for being willing to venture into this area of need — and yourselves, also, for clearly laying out facts that 1000 come tomorrow, the domestic danger would continue. The next president of the United States will either deal creatively and energetically with our troubled cities or he will preside over four years of unprecedented violence and confusion. — Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D.

"Flag flying" is doubly dangerous. Sometimes you pay too much in penalties as a result, other times your opponents bid on and make their contract by taking advantage of the information your bids have provided.

West's two heart call was one of those weak two bids which are standard in modern expert play. They show a good six card suit and just below an opening bid in high card strength.

North's double was normal and East raised to three hearts in an effort to jam his opponents' bidding.

It failed utterly. No one was going to shut out Edgar Kaplan, one of the world's greatest players who sat South. Not that anyone needed to be a great player to find a bid with Edgar's hand and Edgar found a four no-trump bid.

At this point West flew the flag with a five heart call. Sidney Lazard, who held the North hand, might well have doubted to show dislike for a slam. He and Edgar use the double of an interference bid for this purpose, but Sidney rather fancied his hand and did not want to discourage Edgar.

Edgar's response was a jump to six spades and now all he had to do was to make it. West held the first trick and shifted to the six of clubs. Edgar won and started on trumps. The West bidding was enough to cause Edgar to try a finesse against East rather than a drop play. Then Edgar ran off the clubs and noted that West had started with four of the suit plus six hearts and one spade. That left him with only two diamonds so a finesse against East's queen of diamonds was clearly indicated. It worked and one more flag had waved unsuccessfully.

State Says It Will Close U.P. Office

By CLINT DUNATHAN

The Upper Peninsula office of the State Highway Department, located at Escanaba for upwards of 50 years, will be closed by order of the State Highway Commission as "part of an economy and efficiency."

The plan, adopted by the Commission at a closed meeting in Lansing last week, provides for transfer of operations from the U.P. office at Escanaba to the Crystal Falls and Newberry district offices and closing of the Escanaba office.

The proposal has been received with concern by the approximately 43 State Highway employees and their families in Escanaba. There are about 28 employed out of the Highway office at 1601 Ludington St. and about 15 at the sign shop at 800 N. 21st St.

Not First Time.

Concern is being expressed by the Escanaba community that this time the Highway Department may mean what it says, since similar proposals have been made from time to time in the past.

About five years ago there was the threat to remove the U.P. office, followed by the decision to stay if improved quarters could be obtained. The office was moved into the former technical school building, owned by Don Marvic, after extensive improvements were made to meet the needs of the Department.

That was three years ago and the five-year lease with Marvic continues to the end of September, 1970. Presumably the move would be accomplished before that date.

Henrik E. Stafseth, state highway director, said the consolidation will be undertaken in the 1969-70 fiscal year.

Districts other than the U.P. will be affected, for the consolidation calls for reducing the number of districts from 10 to eight, and "to balance our work load between the district offices," resulting in

Not Happen Soon

"This is a matter for the Legislature, not one of department policy, and I don't think the proposal is going to become effective very soon," said Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) when asked to comment on the State Highway reorganization proposal.

I have already talked with Director Stafseth, as has Senator Thomas Schwaberg, and we will want to hear more about how the plan is proposed to work," said Rep. Varnum. He is today in Sault Ste. Marie in company with other Legislative appropriations committee members touring Kinceloe AFB and Lake Superior State College.

"more efficient administration of field operations," he said. "The Newberry and Crystal Falls districts will not be consolidated because of long travel distances in the Upper Peninsula," Stafseth said.

An examination of the consolidation plan, however, indicates contradictions that should be corrected before the U.P. highway office at Escanaba is closed.

How Improved?

For example, is it "efficient administration" to close the centrally-located Escanaba office in the 15-county U.P. district with 1700 miles of trunkline highway and at the same time propose the creation of a 21-county district with about 2000 miles of trunkline?

Security Change Can Be Made Here

Social security beneficiaries who need to report changes of address or other events that affect the payment of their monthly benefits may now do so through the social security office in Escanaba, says Arnold T. Williams, district manager. Reports may be made by mail, telephone, or personal visit.

In addition to address changes, Williams said, events that affect receipt of monthly social security checks include employment, marriage or remarriage in some instances, divorce and death.

NMU Offering Turkish Studies At Ankara In '69

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan University will conduct a six-week program for 30 of its students next summer at Middle East Technical University, Ankara, Turkey. Cost per student, including transportation, is $929.

Participants in the July 2 through 30 program will study the language, customs and the nature of the education, historical and political system of Turkey. Field trips will complement the classes which are to be conducted in English.

Project director Henry Heimonen, chairman of NMU's conservation department, said although the program represents Northern's first major venture into an educational program overseas, the university is also co-sponsoring a study program at McGill University, Canada, during the current academic year.

Several thousand different varieties of wheat are grown around the world. They are bred for resistance to disease, high yield, proper maturity and good milling and baking qualities.

Reclassification Of Bars Asked By Licensees

TRAVERSE CITY —

Gerald Peterson of Alpena was elected president of the Michigan Licensed Beverage Association at the 29th annual convention which closed here this week.

The Association, representing establishments licensed by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, adopted a resolution calling for tavern reclassification and the upgrading of all taverns in communities where liquor by the glass sales are approved. Other resolutions called for continued efforts to liberalize state laws governing the sale of alcoholic beverages in establishments with controlled and supervised drinking, for the transfer of licenses from one governmental unit to another, rather than the granting of new licenses, enforcement of laws which prohibit sales in unlicensed halls, and for elimination of the law that prohibits sale of spirits on election days.

Owners will be assigned numbers that must be displayed on the snowmobiles, Hare said.

The secretary predicted that from 50,000 to 100,000 snowmobiles would be registered this year.

For example, is it "efficient administration" to close the centrally-located Escanaba office in the 15-county U.P. district with 1700 miles of trunkline highway and at the same time propose the creation downstate of a 21-county district with about 2000 miles of trunkline?

Price Meeting Held By Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — A meeting to discuss automobile prices has been held by top executives of the Ford Motor Co. and members of the Council of Economic Advisers, a Ford spokesman said Wednesday.

The Council, an arm of the White House on economic policy matters, issued a strongly disapproving statement Monday when Chrysler Corp. announced price increases in 1969 models would average $84.

Other members of the auto industry's Big Three, Ford and General Motors, have not yet disclosed prices on their new cars.

The Ford spokesman said it was his understanding the meeting with members of the Council was "just a general discussion of the situation in the auto industry and the implications of pricing."

Present for Ford at the session Tuesday in Washington, he said, were Henry Ford II, Chairman of the Board of Directors, Semon Knudsen, president; Fred Secrest, vice president and comptroller; and R. W. Markley, vice president.

The Council would neither confirm nor deny that it met with the Ford officials.

Reclassification Of Bars Asked By Licensees

TRAVERSE CITY — Gerald Peterson of Alpena was elected president of the Michigan Licensed Beverage Association at the 29th annual convention which closed here this week.

The Association, representing establishments licensed by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, adopted a resolution calling for tavern reclassification and the upgrading of all taverns in communities where liquor by the glass sales are approved. Other resolutions called for continued efforts to liberalize state laws governing the sale of alcoholic beverages in establishments with controlled and supervised drinking, for the transfer of license from one governmental unit to another, rather than the granting of new licenses, enforcement of laws which prohibit sales in unlicensed halls, and for elimination of the law that prohibits sale of spirits on election days.

Coho Salmon 'Protected' In Thompson Fish Ponds

THOMPSON — A year and a half ago, the Alaskan coho salmon planted in Thompson Creek migrated into Lake Michigan.

The salmon grew, probably roamed the length of the lake and then this summer began returning to Thompson Bay for spawning runs into their native stream.

Some of the early birds made it.

The rest won't, even if successful.

Registry Starts For Snowmobiles In October: Hare

LANSING (AP) — Registrations for snowmobiles will become available in October, Secretary of State James Hare announced today.

Present for Ford at the session Tuesday in Washington, he said, were Henry Ford II, Chairman of the Board of Directors, Semon Knudsen, president; Fred Secrest, vice president and comptroller; and R. W. Markley, vice president.

The Council would neither confirm nor deny that it met with the Ford officials.

"We put about 650 fish up the creek earlier this summer," Chvala said Wednesday. "Of these, violators took over 150.

Some were speared, others netted or clubbed. We even chased two guys in there one night with machetes."

Chvala said that the remnants of the 650 fish put in the creek were shocked out of the stream and taken to the hatchery, where eggs will be taken when the fish are "ripe" for spawning. Many of the fish, he said, show signs of battle with spears and clubs, one even with part of its backbone showing.

Chvala said that in addition to the salmon in the fish trap, the department also has noted a number of rainbow trout in the 10-12 pound class. Two rainbows taken from the trap Tuesday weighed nine and 12 pounds, respectively.

successful in eluding the barricade of fishermen's hooks off the mouth of the stream to reach the Conservation Dept. fish trap a short distance from the mouth.

The reason? Violators.

George Chvala, Thompson hatchery foreman, said fish trapped in the creek are being transported to the safer confines of hatchery ponds, rather than being replaced over the trap in the creek to allow natural spawning because of violators.

"We took 35 or 36 quarts of eggs Tuesday," Chvala said.

Chvala estimated there are between 2,500 and 3,000 eggs to a quart. He said the department hopes to strip about 600 fish.

Although fishing activity at the stream has subsided somewhat from the throngs which gathered earlier this month, Chvala said the department believes there are still plenty of fish in the area.

"There are early spawners and the late spawners," he said. "We had 250 salmon in the trap Tuesday and another 100 Wednesday morning. If we get rain, this will help them run."

Many of the salmon being taken by fishermen now show a change in coloring from the bright silver of a month ago. Salmon now exhibit a crimson striping. The color change comes as eggs start to develop.

Chvala said that in addition to the salmon in the fish trap, the department also has noted a number of rainbow trout in the 10-12 pound class. Two rainbows taken from the trap Tuesday weighed nine and 12 pounds, respectively.

Lynx Joining Bobcat In Michigan's Tall Timber

If cats really do have nine lives, the wild Canadian lynx is beginning its second one in Michigan.

For over 50 years, Michigan forests have been the home for only one wild member of the cat family — the bobcat.

But in recent years, its bigger relative, the Canadian lynx, a former inhabitant of the State, is slowly but steadily repopulating the State's forests according to Wayne State University biologist, Prof. William Prychodko.

"Both the bobcat and the lynx occurred commonly in Michigan at one time," Dr. Prychodko says. "But as population increased and logging operations cleared the dense virgin forests, the lynx retreated to the regions north of Lake Superior where it initially came from."

The bobcat, which prefers smaller, cutover bush and thickets, remained in the area and thrived.

Only in recent years, as big forests have gradually begun to grow back, are lynx starting to migrate back from Canada, Dr. Prychodko says.

"The lynx was officially listed as extinct in the State in 1938, but during the past decade, hunters have taken enough of these animals to show that a small breeding population of the cat has re-established itself," says the biologist.

In pioneer days, the lynx was feared because of its terrifying screech and its habit of following men as they walked through the forest.

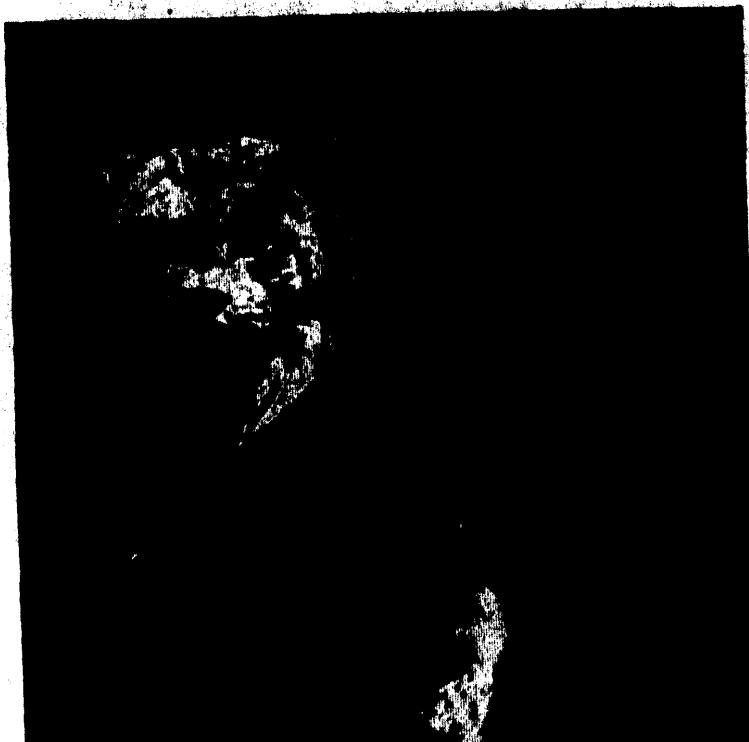

Such fear of the lynx is unfounded, however, since there is no evidence of their ever having attacked humans, Dr. Prychodko says. Farmers needn't worry because like the bobcat, the lynx seldom preys on farm animals.

"Both cats are extremely nervous and secretive around places where there is or was human life," explains the professor.

Another member of the cat family that once inhabited Michigan is the cougar, variously known as the puma, panther or mountain lion.

The cougar, like the lynx disappeared from Michigan forests, but has not reappeared. Its range, however, is the most extensive of any animal in North America — from Alaska to South America.

PUBLIC EXECUTIONS
The last public execution in the United States was a hanging which took place in Kentucky as late as 1936. Today only six states allow hanging as a method of execution, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

THE CANADIAN LYNX, top, is rejoining its cousin, the bobcat, bottom, as an inhabitant of Michigan's forests.

Probe Is Asked In TB Hospital

DETROIT (AP) — The state Department of Public Health has been asked to investigate a Detroit tuberculosis hospital following charges that its 400 residents live in deplorable conditions and receive inadequate care.

At a stormy Common Council session Tuesday a group of former patients at Herman Kiefer Hospital stated charges of poor treatment and sanitation.

The health department probe would be conducted by a team of doctors specializing in chest diseases, especially tuberculosis.

Dr. George Pickett, acting director of the Wayne County Health Department, requested "unnecessary deaths" occur as a result of treatment and conditions at Kiefer.

Pickett said later he did not mean people are dying at the hospital. He said the poor atmosphere often repels persons treated there. Such patients fail to cooperate in the hospital's programs.

Pickett's charges were termed "irresponsible" by John Dodge, an attorney for Dr. Paul T. Chapman, director of the hospital.

The former patients, calling themselves the Herman Kiefer Alumni Association, became angry when Chapman refused to meet with them. Chapman has headed the hospital for the past 32 years.

House Leaders Favor Shakeup In Income Tax

matter who is president or which party controls the House, the complicated and much-amended tax code is due for a searching study and possible revision next year.

Both Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, and Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., who is in line to be chairman if the Republicans take over the House, say they favor a full-scale review of the Internal Revenue Code.

In separate interviews, both said they would put the review high on the committee's order of business and were prepared to schedule weeks, possibly months, of hearings.

Right "Loopholes"

Although some minor modifications were made in the code in connection with the 1964 tax reductions, there has been no extensive review of the tax laws since 1954.

Over the years a host of special provisions have been attached to the code, many of which are said by critics to be loopholes for the well-to-do and the well-advantaged.

Demands were made in Congress earlier this year in connection with passage of the 10 per cent income surtax for revisions to allow for additional revenue without a general tax increase.

But the Treasury pleaded against what promised to be controversial and drawn-out study of the code at the time because of what it said was the urgent need for immediate passage of the surtax.

Pilot Changes

The Treasury did promise to recommend to Congress possible changes in the law. Congressional leaders don't expect the recommendations until after the November elections.

Richard Sabourin returned home from two years service with the U. S. Army where he served in the Code region, Research and Engineer Laboratories in Hanover, N. H. He will resume his position with the Wisconsin State Highway, with headquarters in Green Bay. Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sabourin.

changes in when it would be imposed and on the length of time assets can be held before straight income tax is applied in place of the capital gains tax.

—Limitations on income splitting within a family. Revision of estate and gift taxes so as to make it less attractive to give away property during lifetime in order to lower the estate tax ultimate heirs will pay.

Curb Foundations

—Tightening the regulations on tax-exempt foundations, which have already been the subject of extensive congressional studies.

—Limiting the present opportunity of reducing the taxes on a business by organizing it into several corporations.

—Possibly a proposal for a minimum income tax on higher incomes so that no one could escape taxation entirely as for example, by investing exclusively in tax-exempt municipal bonds. Such a proposal was incorporated in the Democratic party platform.

—In general, changes designed to lighten the tax burden at the lowest end of the income scale. A precedent of sorts may have been set this year when the lowest brackets were exempted from the surtax.

Delta District Nurses To Hear Mrs. H. Phelps

At a Board of Directors meeting of the Delta District Nurses Association, held recently at the home of President Elizabeth Nelson, plans for the coming year were discussed. The first dinner meeting will be held at the House of Ludington on Sept. 24, at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Helen P. Phelps, RN, and MNA board member, of Bay City will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Phelps has received recognition throughout the state as a speaker, as well as for her knowledge of the current nursing problems.

Much Experience

A graduate of Virginia Baptist Hospital, Mrs. Phelps also attended the University of Virginia, Cleveland College and Western Reserve University. She has held positions as head nurse, administrative supervisor, director of nurses, and her present position is private duty nurse. Her speech is entitled, "Nursing, Triumph or Tragedy."

The Board of Directors are inviting all RN's who may be inactive to join the organization and become social members as the programs planned for the coming year will help them keep informed as to the current trends in nursing. Social year were discussed. The first dinner meeting will be held at the House of Ludington on Sept. 24, at 6:30 p.m.

Within the past year local membership in the district has more than doubled as nurses are becoming more aware of the need for improved patient care and better employment conditions.

Considering the economic growth and increasing population trend in Delta County health needs will become more apparent while the shortage of professional nurses continues. Members of the Delta District and poor working conditions in the area are two of the main reasons for the lack of qualified nurses.

The nurse, acting through her professional association, the Michigan Nurses Association (MNA), and the collective bargaining unit of the Economic Security Program (ESP) can participate responsibly in estab-

Fall Fashion Preview Delights Woman's Club Members

cented with turquoise pearls. Sequin and pearl accessories complete her costume; Connie Jacobs is all set for the cool fall weather in her brown and beige piglet coat shown here with a cuddly fur hat and brown suede boots. The coat is worn over a matching knit dress in a deeper brown shade; Mrs. Earl Iverson is stunning in this brown and white stripe coat enhanced by black fur trim on the collar and cuffs. With the coat she wears a brown and white brim hat and brown and white accessories. Barbara Cutcher sports the military look which is so popular this season as she models this lovely gold knit skimmer with gold trim and gold accessories; Mrs. Francis Rodgers is all set for a glamorous night on the town as she steps out in this attractive black crepe cocktail dress with black fur trim. This dress would also be perfect for the coming holiday events. To complete her attire she wears black evening slippers and rhinestone earrings. Her purse is also glitter trimmed. Janice Hall models the very 'in' look for the campus this year, the knit, a-line dress styled with the high turtle neck collar, shown here in bright red, and accented with gold medallion, navy hose and navy shoes. ## Delta District Nurses To Hear Mrs. H. Phelps

At a Board of Directors meeting of the Delta District Nurses Association, held recently at the home of President Elizabeth Nelson, plans for the coming year were discussed. The first dinner meeting will be held at the House of Ludington on Sept. 24, at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Helen P. Phelps, RN, and MNA board member, of Bay City will be the guest speaker. Mrs. Phelps has received recognition throughout the state as a speaker, as well as for her knowledge of the current nursing problems.

Much Experience

A graduate of Virginia Baptist Hospital, Mrs. Phelps also attended the University of Virginia, Cleveland College and Western Reserve University. She has held positions as head nurse, administrative supervisor, director of nurses, and her present position is private duty nurse. Her speech is entitled, "Nursing, Triumph or Tragedy."

The Board of Directors are inviting all RN's who may be inactive to join the organization and become social members as

Public Access For Coho Fishermen Sought

By JEAN WORTH

Coho fever, which created so much excitement a year ago in Lake Michigan waters in the Frankfort area and which has made Thompson the fishing capital of the Upper Peninsula in recent weeks, is causing unprecedent preparation for recreation development at the head of Little Bay de Noc.

Planting of 100,000 coho salmon in Haymeadow Creek, tributary of the Whitefish River last spring, will create a salmon fishery beginning this fall with the return of the first jacks (young males) and expanding into a big sports fishing business next fall in Little Bay de Noc and the Whitefish.

Where To Fish?

When the cohos now in Great Lakes waters return to the Whitefish in 1969, how will the public get to fish them?

This is a problem currently concerning the Bays de Noc Resources Council headed by Wynand Nieuwenkamp of Gladstone, the Fish Division of the Michigan Conservation Department, which made the plantings of cohos, the recreation experts of the Hiawatha National Forest and many private enterprises which will serve the sports fishermen.

Much work has been done for the public already in creation of boating facilities and access to coho waters and planning is underway for much more.

Land Bank

Next fall should find much more public access to the rivers that flow into the head of Little Bay de Noc and to the bay itself.

The problem of providing the public access is enlarged by the very rapid rise of property values in the area and which is uncertain about just where the big fish will concentrate for the best fishing.

The Forest Service has made a survey, just completed, of facilities now available for coho fishermen from Ford River around the shore of Little Bay de Noc. Jack Smith, landscape architect of the Hiawatha Forest staff made the survey for Alfred Trout, forest supervisor, and found that there are 6 public and at least 15 private sites from Ford River around the bay to Squaw Point opposite Gladstone.

There may well be more places, said Smith, since his survey was hurried and Wynand Nieuwenkamp asked that any person not listed please report to him at the Alger-Delta Electric Association, Gladstone, so that all facilities may be enlisted in the inventory and chart being prepared by Jack Kremer of the Soil Conservation Service for the Bays de Noc Resources Council.

Fishing Facilities

The Forest Service survey listed; with present capacity for fishermen's cars and boat trailers, and with the potential for site capacity development:

Public: Ford River, state site, 1-30; Ludington Park, Escanaba, 15-50; Van Cleve Park, Gladstone, 15-30; Wilderness Park, Gladstone, 50-100; Little Bay de Noc state site, Kipling, 25-35; Twin Springs Park, Hiawatha National Forest, 10-30; total 125-275.

Private: Mike Stema's Bay

Rooms For 1000

Not included in this survey were Harold Sterling's resort at the mouth of the Whitefish River with a potential of 100 car and trailer slots.

The existing facilities would accommodate 285 cars and trailers and they have a potential of more than 1,000.

Planners hope for both public and private development of boat launching ramps and accompanying car and trailer parking areas, and of fishing sites where boatmen and wading fishermen can get into the water to catch cohos.

George Anderson, Rapid River building materials supply dealer, acquired property of the Rapid River Power & Light Co., on Little Bay de Noc south of Rapid River at a liquidation auction last May. His holdings there totaled 47 acres and he sold 18 acres with about 1,500 feet of low frontage to the Michigan Conservation Department, which plans to develop it for public fishing access. The reported price for the property, now in process of transfer: $18,000.

Quest For Land

Anderson said that he has no present plans for the development of his property, which is strategic and amenable to fishing site development.

Across the bay Garth Point, which could have been bought entirely for $500 not many years ago, is now selling from $25 to $30 a front foot for cottage sites and it is substantially all sold and not available for public access except through commercial establishments like Bert Wickham's resort at the tip.

The Forest Service sought to buy the 25-acre H. J. Wilford property on the west bank of the Whitefish River just downstream from the US-2 highway bridge, but by the time local forestry officials got an OK from Washington to make a bid the price had gone up beyond reach of the bid.

Whitefish Private

Another highly desirable property for public fishing access is the Kay Brothers Dairy Farm south of the Ranger Station at Rapid River and at the mouth of the Whitefish on the west bank. It is 160 acres and mostly high ground. Its owners are reported not interested in selling it. They plan to continue to farm it, inquirers have been told. This property was unofficially reported as available for $45,000 several years ago.

The need for public access has led the Forest Service to acquire 600 acres of land at the mouth of the Carp River in Mackinac County where there has been a coho planting, and a 200-car parking lot is being developed there.

The Whitefish is the largest of the streams at the head of Little Bay de Noc, which include the Rapid and the Tacosh, and its banks at the mouth are privately owned. There is government forest ownership upstream.

THE AERIAL VIEWER is seeing here the top of Little Bay de Noc, destined to become a coho salmon fishery in 1969 and now under active planning for the creation of more public access for fishing. At top is Garth Point, and under it at left is the mouth of the Whitefish River with Kay Brothers dairy farm in its elbow at the mouth. To the left of the village of Rapid River in the center of the photo is the Rapid River, whose estuary is clearly seen in the little bay at the mouth of the Whitefish River. At the right is the Tacosh River and between the Rapid and Tacosh is the Anderson property of which the Michigan Conservation Department has acquired the left (east) part near the former Stone Anderson sawmill site, where the mill burner still stands. (Aerial Photo by Bernard Schultz of the Escanaba Daily Press)

Nixon Assails HHH Hecklers

Cool Weather Is Coho Help; Kokonee Caught

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Cooler temperatures expected to push into Western Michigan are anticipated to bring better Coho salmon fishing to Lake Michigan shoreline areas, the West Michigan Tourist Association's Bert H. Humphrey, its Democratic rival for the White House.

"Let me say this: The President of the United States and the office that he holds, and the vice president of the United States and the office that he holds—they deserve respect."

The Republican presidential nominee said Wednesday night. "And I know that they should get respect wherever they go."

Nixon campaigns in the Midwest today, with stops in Springfield, Mo., and Peoria, Ill., on the way to a fund-raising dinner in New York City.

There, Nixon will address one of 20 dinners—at $1,000-a-plate—linked by closed circuit television.

Before an overflow crowd of more than 10,000, in the vast Mormon Tabernacle Wednesday night, Nixon assailed demonstrators who heckle Humphrey and President Johnson.

Wallace Rally

DETROIT (AP) — Supporters of George C. Wallace for president plan to hold a fund-raising rally in suburban Dearborn Oct. 10, when Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia will be keynote speaker. It was announced today by Larry Lee, a state vice-chairman of the American Independent Party.

State Police said a car driven by Roberta Goloback, 16, of 934 Sheridan Rd., pulled from a stop sign into the path of a car driven by Joseph Dambrino, 21, of 100 N. 21st St. and at the intersection with County Rd. 426.

Slight Injuries Result In Crash

Three persons were injured, none seriously, in a two-car collision about 10:45 p.m. Wednesday on U. S. 2 and 41 at the intersection with County Rd. 426.

State Police said a car driven by Roberta Goloback, 16, of 934 Sheridan Rd., pulled from a stop sign into the path of a car driven by Joseph Dambrino, 21, of 100 N. 21st St. and at the intersection with County Rd. 426.

Reuther Blasts Car Price Hike

Act Would Refuse Grants, Loans To Unruly Students

DETROIT (AP) — Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, said Wednesday 1969 car price increases announced by the Chrysler Corp. are "totally unjustified based upon the economic facts and this corporation's record profits."

High winds have restricted fishing activity lately and warm surface temperatures apparently have forced the salmon into deeper waters some miles from shore. With few exceptions, both Lake Michigan and inland stream fishing for salmon has been poor to fair the past week, the association said.

The first appearance of the Kokonee salmon was reported the past week in Torch Lake near Eastport. Several of the reddish-pink fish were taken a half-mile south of the north end of the lake in 45 feet of water. The fish were believed making their first spawning runs towards the Eastport and Wilkins Creeks.

Several thousand different varieties of wheat are grown around the world.

Robison Estate Being Settled

PONTIAC (AP) — Richard C. Robison and his wife, Shirley, who were mysteriously murdered along with their four children last New Year's Day in July 1968, left estates valued at $100,000 each it was disclosed in wills filed today.

The estimate was made by the National Bank of Detroit, executor of the estates, in filing wills with Oakland County Probate Register James R. Shirk. Robison was a Lathrop Village advertising executive.

Shirk set a hearing Oct. 1 before Probate Judge Donald E. Adams on admission of the wills, both dated July 28, 1968.

Robison, 42, specified his estate should go to his wife, 40, and she specified her would go to him. If neither survived the other, they provided their estates should be put into a trust fund for the children.

Since none of the children survived, Shirk said the estates would be divided between the Robisons' next of kin, who had filed an agreement to share equally.

The heirs are Robison's father, Ross C. of Detroit, and a sister, Elaine R. Fox; Mrs. Robison's mother, Adeline Fulton of Oak Park, and a brother, Marvin L. Fulton.

Robison's wife was shot several times while fleeing from police. Witnesses reportedly described the three as Negro teen-agers, police said. Kaminski, however, is white.

Hoffman was reported in fair condition but improving at a Jackson hospital.

O. Peterson Dies Today

Oscar A. Peterson, 81, of 214 N. 13th St. died this morning at 7:30 at St. Francis Hospital.

He was born Nov. 8, 1886 in Ford River and was a member of the Bethany Lutheran Church. Mr. Peterson was a retired watchman at the Shepock Dimension Co.

He is survived by his widow, Ethel of Escanaba; one son, Erwin Peterson of St. Paul and three grandchildren; one sister, Miss Clara Peterson of Escanaba and a nephew, Earl Peterson of Houston, Texas.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home from 4 to 9:30 p.m. Friday and funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Saturday at the funeral home chapel with the Rev. Walter E. Nelson officiating. Burial will be in Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

Death Ruled 'Accidental'

The death of Fr. Casimir Kryszak, whose body was found in shallow water along the beach of Halstead's Bay-side Motel Wednesday morning, was ruled "accidental drowning" by Delta County authorities after an autopsy performed by Dr. Roland Berry, pathologist at St. Francis Hospital.

A bruise on Fr. Kryszak's forehead was apparently caused by a fall, officers reported.

Nixon Assails HHH Hecklers

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Richard M. Nixon has assailed "the hostile crowds" and the demonstrators besetting the campaign of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, his Democratic rival for the White House.

"Let me say this: The President of the United States and the office that he holds, and the vice president of the United States and the office that he holds—they deserve respect," the Republican presidential nominee said Wednesday night.

"And I know that they should get respect wherever they go."

Nixon campaigns in the Midwest today, with stops in Springfield, Mo., and Peoria, Ill., on the way to fund-raising dinner in New York City.

There, Nixon will address one of 20 dinners—at $1,000-a-plate—linked by closed circuit television in New York City.

Before an overflow crowd of more than 10,000, in the vast Mormon Tabernacle Wednesday night, Nixon assailed demonstrators who heckle Humphrey and President Johnson.

Cool Weather Is Coho Help; Kokonee Caught

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Cooler temperatures expected to push into Western Michigan are anticipated to bring better Coho salmon fishing to Lake Michigan shoreline areas, the West Michigan Tourist Association reports.

High winds have restricted fishing activity lately and warm surface temperatures apparently have forced the salmon into deeper waters some miles from shore. With few exceptions, both Lake Michigan and inland stream fishing for salmon has been poor to fair the past week, the association said.

The first appearance of the Kokonee salmon was reported the past week in Torch Lake near Eastport. Several of the reddish-pink fish were taken a half-mile south of the north end of the lake in 45 feet of water. The fish were believed making their first spawning runs towards the Eastport and Wilkinson Creeks.

Three persons were injured, none seriously, in a two-car collision about 10:45 p. m. Wednesday on U. S. 2 and 41 at the intersection with County Rd. 426.

State Police said a car driven by Roberta Goloback, 16, of 934 Sheridan Rd., pulled from a stop sign into the path of a car driven by Joseph Damrosio, Gwinn. Roberta and her mother, Marjorie, and Damrosio all suffered minor injuries, officers said.

Machine To Help Prevent Silicosis

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's state Health Department is awaiting the aid of a sophisticated new machine to fight silicosis, a crippling and killing disease that hits up to seven per cent of the state's foundry workers.

Nationally, it is estimated that up to 10 per cent of all foundry workers suffer from the disease. The Michigan figure also may be higher, since cases of the lung disease develop slowly and may go undetected for years.

Workers get the disease from breathing tiny, unseen particles of silica dust suspended in the air. Damage to the lungs is gradual.

A slight cough and chest pains generally are the first symptoms.

Takes Extraordinary Effort

Lung damage becomes more severe in the later stages. Silicosis is incurable. It can lead to tuberculosis and, eventually, death.

In 1966, the last year for which complete figures are available, there were 58 deaths in Michigan from silicosis and other dust-related diseases.

The toll probably was higher since silicosis often leads to

Plan Meetings Uniting Demos

WASHINGTON (AP) — An effort to pull the Democratic party together under the Humphrey-Muskie ticket will begin Friday with a series of regional conferences throughout the country.

Michigan party leaders will meet Friday in Detroit. Lawrence F. O'Brien, Democratic National Chairman, said Wednesday.

"We are going to make an all-out effort in every state," said Robert McCandless, national director of the reunification effort. "These conferences are just the first installment of massive aid and advice that the national committee will make available to assure an efficient, hard-hitting campaign across the nation.

Expected to attend the conference in Detroit are leaders of the preconvention campaign for Vice President Hubert Humphrey along with party leaders who favored Sen. Eugene McCarthy, Sen. George McGovern and the late Sen. Robert Kennedy.

Labor leaders are also invited.

other conditions that can be fatal.

Silicosis also takes a higher economic toll.

State Workmen's Compensation Commission records show 1,425 persons drew compensation in 1966 for disabilities due to silicosis and related diseases.

The average compensation is about $5,000 with a yearly total close to $7 million.

Some foundry workers continue on the job after silicosis is detected since progress of the disease generally is slow.

Once the disease is contracted, however, another foundry is not likely to hire the worker. The company naturally would be unwilling to hire a man who might eventually be totally disabled.

Some workers in the preliminary stages of the disease therefore draw full disability.

Can Not Be Cured

Since the disease cannot be cured, the health department's occupational health division primarily is concerned with prevention.

Some 20 field engineers tour the state's 284 foundries to take air samples. They try to reach all the foundries at least once a year.

A new, $25,000 machine is their latest scientific helper.

With only a tiny sampling of air from the foundry, the machine of free silica and other irritants

If the silica content is too high, the health department informs the foundry management.

Engineers then advise on the installation of air filtering and other safety equipment to protect the workers.

Al VanderKolk, chief of the standards and analysis section of the occupational health division, reports that most industries cooperate with the health department.

It is to their advantage, he explained, to keep the workers healthy and thus avoid costly payments for disability.

Escanaba, Gladstone Ranked In Grid Poll

By The Associated Press

Bay City Central has picked up right where it left off a year ago, topping in the first 1968 Associated Press high school football poll. The team led Class A schools in the poll conducted by Michigan sports writers and sports casters in 1967 with a 9-7 record.

Bay City Central opened its 1968 season last Friday night and romped over Flint Central 40-13. On the basis of 10 points for a first place vote, nine for second, eight for third, etc., the Class A power collected 106 votes, followed by Battle Creek Central with 84 and Kalamazoo Central with 61.

In Class B Fenton edged Albion 107 to 102 in points with Willow Run third with 80. Fenton and Albion tied for second in last season's poll, which was topped by Saginaw Buena Vista.

Galesburg-Augusta and Vandercrook Lake, which were rated 1-2 last year, resumed their positions this week. Galesburg-Augusta collected 112 points to Vandercrook Lake's 74. Detroit St. Ambrose is third with 59.

Class D votes put Potterville on top with 73, followed by Lake City with 51 and Atlanta with 44.

Potterville finished tied for second and last year.

All together, 171 schools received at least one vote.

Escanaba, which was ranked fifth a year ago, finished in a ninth place tie with Allen Park, each collecting 20 votes. Ironwood and Gladstone, the number two and three ranked teams in the U.P. behind Escanaba, tied for eighth place in the Class B poll with 19 votes.

Mets Sweep IL Playoff Crown

By The Associated Press

The Columbus Jets and the Toledo Mud Hens won't see big Steve Renko of Jacksonville again before the International League opens a new season next April—and even that will be too soon.

It was Renko—a late-season addition to the Mets' pitching staff—who gave up four hits in 6 1-3 innings for a 7-3 victory over the Jets in the final doubleheader of the regular season that knocked Columbus out of the running and gave the pennant to Toledo.

But Renko then stopped Toledo 5-1 on a three-hitter that clinched the best-of-5 semifinal playoff series for fourth-place Jacksonville over the Mud Hens by a 3-1 margin.

Wednesday night, the 6-foot-5, 235-pounder limited Columbus to six hits as Jacksonville whipped the Jets 3-1 and swept the best-of-7 final series—the first time a fourth-place team has completed such a sweep and the Mets' first playoff title.

Columbus took the lead in the sixth inning when George Spriggs singled, stole second, took third on Bernie Smith's single and stole home. But the Mets tied it in the same inning on Bob Pfeil's homer and won it in the seventh on Danny Dyer's two-run homer.

NY Mets Break Strikeout Mark

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Mets broke their major league record against the Chicago Cubs Wednesday night when Ken Boswell struck out in the third inning, becoming the 1,130th Met to fan this season. The Mets set the old mark of 1,129 in 1965.

Tigers Clinch Pennant In Appropriate Manner

By KENNETH S. LOWE

The Detroit Tigers clinched the American League pennant Tuesday night in a manner that was appropriate in a number of ways.

It was appropriate, for instance, that the Tigers' opponents were the Yankees, the team that had dominated the American League for four and a half decades. Since 1931, the Yankees had won the flag no less than 29 times, including one period in which they were league champions an unprecedented five consecutive years. At no time from 1931 on did the New Yorkers go without a championship team for more than three years in a row—until this year. When the Tigers won the pennant Tuesday it marked the fourth successive year in which the Yankees finished out of first place, signaling the end of their domination of the league.

It was appropriate also that the Tigers clinched the pennant on the same night that the St. Louis Cardinals, who will be their opponents in the World Series, were losing a no-hitter to Gaylord Perry of the San Francisco Giants. And the losing pitcher in that game, incidentally, was Bob Gibson, the Cardinals' ace.

Fired Umpires Present Case

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Umpires Al Salerno and Bill Valentine, fired by American League President Joe Cronin Monday, were scheduled to present their case Thursday at a meeting in Washington with Senators Jacob Javits and William Goodell and Rep. Alexander Pirnie, all of New York.

The Utica Press reported Wednesday night that Salerno, of Utica, and Valentine, of Little Rock, Ark., would meet with the lawmakers before going to New York for a news conference and television appearance.

The umpires' attorneys, Jerry Milano and Harry Hanna, both of Cleveland, also were to attend the Washington meeting, which was set up at the invitation of the lawmakers.

Cronin said he fired Salerno, who has worked in the league for 12 years, and Valentine, who was hired in 1962, for incompetence. The umpires insist they were cut loose because of their labor activities in attempting to organize American League umpires and join in an association with their National League colleagues.

Salerno, 37, and Valentine, 35, said in Utica they were confident the players before going to New York for a news conference and television appearance.

The Umpires' Association, of which Salerno and Valentine are members, has emerged the victors after being tied or behind in the seventh inning or later. It also is the 29th game won by the Tigers this year on their last turn at bat.

The victory extended the Tigers' winning streak to eight straight and was the 11th consecutive complete game by a Tiger pitcher, a very impressive statistic indeed.

Saints Believe Atkins Top Defensive Player

NEW YORK (AP) — Losers seldom produce players of the last Sunday with 13 unassisted tackles. The 6-foot-6, 270-pound defensive end also took his turn flattening Frank Ryan, Cleveland's quarterback.

Despite the heroics of Atkins, beat Pittsburgh 34-20, also had a candidate in Bob Lurtsima, defensive tackle. Chuck Howley, Dallas linebacker, stood out defensively in the Cowboys' 59-13 three game balls, one each to defensive halfback Irv Cross, defensive end Lamar Lundy, and defensive safety Ron Smith.

The New York Giants, who won the ball game 24-10 on interceptions by Ernie Kellerman, who almost became the goat on a pass interference call, and Bill Glass.

"He's unbelievable," said Coach Tom Fears of the Saints, describing Atkins. "He just breaks the laws of nature."

Blanton Collier, coach of the Browns, said to Atkins, "Dog-gone it, aren't you too old to still be playing the game?" Collier was an assistant coach under Paul Brown when Cleveland drafted Atkins as its No. 1 choice in 1953 out of Tennessee.

"I'm not satisfied with my performance," Atkins told staffer Ben Thomas. "The fact that we lost takes it all away. Let's have more victories and less stuff about how many tackles I make."

Frank Ryan's commented: "I'm glad I don't have that man coming at me every Sunday."

Kellerman also qualified for the Browns. Four plays after his interference call, he picked off a Bill Kilmer pass that led to the go-ahead touchdown.

Eddie Meador of the Los Angeles Rams was an important factor in Monday's 24-3 victory at St. Louis. The Rams gave DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions almost got a break this week that for once didn't involve any broken bones. But their luck didn't last long.

Gale Sayers, Chicago Bears' fleet running back, sat out practice for the second day Wednesday with a minor back injury, apparently the result of the Bears' 38-28 National Football League loss last Sunday to the Washington Redskins.

But the latest report is that Sayers will be ready to go for Sunday's game against Detroit at Tiger Stadium.

Sayers has given the Lions trouble ever since he joined the team.

Chicago whipped Detroit 14-3 in their first encounter last year with Sayers scoring one touchdown.

Three weeks later the fleet halfback scored once on a 97-yard kickoff return and also sprinted 63 yards to the Lions' one-yard line to set a second goal as the Bears downed the Lions 27-13.

Detroit has more to worry about than Sayers and his teammates. The Lions' humiliating 59-13 defeat at Dallas last Sunday left them with injuries to key defensive players.

Larry Hand, first-string right defensive end has his knee operated on today. Mike Lucci, the middle linebacker, won't be able to play Sunday because of a swollen knee hurt in the Cowboy encounter.

"Bill Swain or Ed Mooney will play middle linebacker and John Baker will play defensive end," said Joe Schmidt, Lions' head coach.

Last week a cast was removed from Baker's arm, broken in the first exhibition Aug. 5 at Buffalo.

Swain was acquired by the Lions in the deal that sent Bruce Maher to the New York Giants. Mooney is a rookie from Texas Tech who was a fourth-round draft pick by Detroit.

Kaline Feels Younger Players Won Pennant

DETROIT (AP) — Al Kaline, who has been riding the bench off-and-on all season and solidly for the past three weeks, reportedly feels he doesn't deserve to play in the World Series because the younger members of the Detroit Tigers have done more than he to win the pennant.

Joe Falls, sports editor of the Detroit Free Press, talked with Kaline at his suburban home several days ago and came up with the following interview.

"I don't deserve to play in the World Series," Kaline said. "It's killing me, but I know what Mayo Smith is up against.

"I've wanted all my life to get into the World Series, but he's got to go with the kids.

"They deserve the chance to play — they're the ones who have been winning the pennant.

I don't see how Mayo can put them on the bench."

During the 15 years he has played for the Tigers the 33-year-old star of the lineup has vowed he would never attend a World Series game until he had an opportunity to play in one.

Kaline, who reportedly earns $75,000 a year, has been riding the bench much of the year due to injuries and the fine play of outfields Mickey Stanley and Jim Northrup.

He had a .305 lifetime batting average going into the 1968 season and has hit .283 this year in sporadic duty that includes work at first base.

"I've been playing so little that I'm afraid to play," Kaline said.

According to the article manager Mayo Smith said: "Keeping him on the bench has been the toughest thing I have ever had to do in my life." Tiger manager Mayo Smith was quoted as saying.

"When I first came to the Tigers, I heard a lot of derogatory things about Al Kaline—that he wasn't a team player, that he was an individualist, that he thought only of himself...that he was hard to get along with.

"Well, just the opposite has been true and this shows you what kind of professional he is."

Additional attractions have been added to Sunday nights program. A powder puff derby will be held with 8 ladies entered for the races. They include the wives and mothers of the leading sportsmen drivers.

Also there will be a race involving the drivers running on foot, racing their cars, eating a hot dog and finally lining up on stage and having their wives throw pies at them.

Finally there will be a match race involving the following drivers: Duke Gardner, Dick Peterson, Herb and Bob Iverson, Allen Yelle and Art Rutherford Jr.

Saturday and Sunday nights will mark the final appearance of racing in this area till next year.

the Tigers clinched the pennant on the same night that the St. Louis Cardinals, who will be their opponents in the World Series, were losing a no-hitter to Gaylord Perry of the San Francisco Giants. And the losing pitcher in that game, incidentally, was Bob Gibson, the Cardinals' ace.

Tiger pitcher, a very impressive statistic indeed.

Cards Favored

In spite of these statistics, however, Las Vegas oddsmakers have installed the Cardinals as 8 to 1 favorites in the Series opening Oct. 2. The Cards are unquestionably a solid club. They led their league, which is generally considered stronger than the American League, by a large margin nearly all season, whereas the Tigers saw their edge narrowed to a shaky four games only a couple of weeks ago. The Cards are the defending world champions, whereas no Tigers team has played in the World Series for 23 years.

Nevertheless, the Tigers have a lot going for them: Latest averages show that they trail St. Louis in team batting by 16 percentage points—.232 to .248, but Detroit has hit an even 100 more home runs than St. Louis—169 to 69. Gibson is a formidable pitcher with World Series experience (he won three games in last year's Series), but Detroit's Denny McLain, baseball's first 30-game winner since 1934, may prove more than a match for him. And in Gates Brown, the Tigers have the toughest clutch hitter in either league.

But in the final analysis, Detroit's greatest asset in the Series will prove to be something that is hard to measure by statistics and averages. It could be called hustle or confidence or the desire to win or any of a number of other clichés. Whatever it may be, it manifests itself most dramatically in the final innings with the Tigers trailing. It transforms almost certain defeat into victory and, practiced long enough, it produces champions like the 1968 Detroit Tigers.

GOP Dinner

Tickets Here

Gov. John A. Love of Colorado will be the speaker at the $100-a-plate 11th Congressional Dist. Republican dinner on Sept. 26 in Ishpeming. Gov. George Romney will introduce the Colorado governor at the 9th annual dinner which will be served at 6:30 p. m. in the Ishpeming National Guard Armory.

John W. Motter, Schoolcraft County ticket chairman, said that tickets are still available for the dinner and may be had by contacting him.

Proceeds from the 11th Dist. dinner will be split among state and county committees for campaign funds. Republican county committees will be credited on the basis of number of tickets sold.

MANISTIQUE

Schoolcraft Will Keep Eastern Time

Schoolcraft County will stay on Eastern Standard Time the year round if the Board of Supervisors action at Tuesday night's meeting is legal and the voters indicate their approval in the Nov. 5 general election. The board adopted EST as the official county time, which does not mean clocks will be changed since the present Central Daylight Saving Time and EST are one and the same.

County Treasurer William Cowman said that the $22,812 County deficit would probably be erased this year if no supplemental appropriations were made by the county board. The board has been operating in the red each year since 1946, he said.

Improved Income

Cowman attributed the ex-

tax payments in the amount of $24,750 were made in August rather than the monthly average of $5,000-$7,000, he remarked.

Robert Ebel, chairman of the county Social Services Department, told the board that remodeling costs on the Moon Apartment Building—as office quarters for the Welfare Department—would cost between $4,900 and $8,000. The building has been offered to the county for $17,500.

Ebel said Dr. Marie Wehner has offered to sell or lease the present Manistique Clinic to the Welfare Department but that it would not be available until late next summer. The offer is contingent upon the clinic staff occupying the proposed Medi-

Cental-Dental Facility to be located on Cherry and Steuben Sts.

Welfare Office

Ebel said the asking price of the clinic is $37,500 but that it could be leased for $500-$550 per month, including utilities. Leasing the building would keep it on the tax rolls and Dr. Wehner has also offered to pay the necessary remodeling costs of his building so that it would be suitable for welfare service use, he added.

Three applications have been received by the Welfare Board for the vacancy which will occur when Richard Freeland of Gulliver retires. Ebel said Freeland has indicated he does not wish to be reappointed. Applications have been received from Jack Phillips, J. Walter Reed, and William Tennyson. Other applications would be welcome, he concluded.

A report from a special committee which recommended that the county sell the 25-mile strip of right-of-way of the Manistique & Lake Superior Railroad was approved.

Mead Corp., the State Conservation Department, and the U. S. Forest Service are finalizing plans to purchase the strip for recreational use.

Mead To Buy

A $750 offer from Robert Schmeling of Mead Corp. to purchase a one-half mile section of the right-of-way west of Shingleton was accepted.

Actual sale of the section will be delayed until the county acquires clear title to the land.

Merwin White, chairman of the special committee concerned with the 25-mile strip purchase and a former board of supervisors chairman, told the board that all of the 15 bridges will remain intact. A letter from Alfred Trout, U. S. Forest supervisor in Escanaba, said that the Forest Service is initiating action to acquire the part of the trail that goes through Hiawatha Federal Forest lands. Trout also complimented the board on its foresight in acquiring the tract before it would be broken up into small parcels and its value as a recreation asset destroyed.

Dump For Blaney

Supervisor Richard Rodgers reported that the county road commission was meeting to consider an agreement on a solid waste disposal dump in the Blaney area; City Supervisor Harold O. Carlson said that no agreement had been reached with the county road commission on plowing the airport runway and that 8,000 feet of paved runway would probably need resurfacing next year.

Supervisor Floyd Sample said that copies of the proposed county blight ordinance had been sent to each township supervisor. The board will review the ordinance at the October meeting.

City Supervisor A. J. Cayia, Jr. reported a summary of ambulance operations in other U. P. communities and said that architects are working on plans for a new county building.

Seek Compromise On Coho Snagging Problems Here

State Rep. Charles H. Varnum says that although he has received no reply from the Conservation Department on Monday's request for an investigation of the coho salmon snagging problem, he will continue to keep informed on the issue until he is certain that fishermen are being treated fairly.

Varnum re-stated that he "cannot condone willful snagging of coho but, at the same time, we should attempt to find a compromise that is fair to the fisherman who snags a coho by accident."

Referring to the bad publicity and ill-feeling of visitors who have been fined for snagging coho he said "it is the job of the Conservation Department to determine a fair policy. The coho salmon were planted to bring life to the community—not to scare visitors away." Varnum said that both he and local Chamber of Commerce officials have received complaints from coho fishermen who felt they were not being dealt with fairly.

Schoolcraft Will Keep Eastern Time

Schoolcraft County will stay on Eastern Standard Time the year round if the Board of Supervisors action at Tuesday night's meeting is legal and the voters indicate their approval in the Nov. 5 general election.

The board adopted EST as the official county time, which does not mean clocks will be changed since the present Central Daylight Saving Time and EST are one and the same.

County Treasurer said the $22,812 County deficit would probably be erased this year if no supplemental appropriations were made by the county board. The county has been operating in the red each year since 1946, he said.

Improved Income

Cowman attributed the expected solvency to higher revenues than anticipated under the new state income tax. Payments through the third quarter of this year will run around $20,000, or about $12,000 more than anticipated. Delinquent tax payments in the amount of $24,793 were made in August rather than the monthly average of $5,000-$7,000, he remarked.

Robert Ebli, chairman of the county Social Services Department, told the board that remodeling costs on the Moon Apartment Building—as office quarters for the Welfare Department—will cost between $4,900 and $8,000. The building has been offered to the county for $17,500.

Club Women Prepare For U.P. Convention

Manistique Women's Club officially opened their 1968-69 club year with a one o'clock autumn smorgasbord-luncheon at Blaney Park Resort Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Merle Wehner, president, discussed highlights of the U. P. District Convention to be held in Manistique Oct. 2 and 3. Twenty-two U. P. clubs have been invited and approximately 175 women are expected to attend the two-day session.

New members Mrs. Leo Curran, Mrs. R. W. Johnson, Mrs. Paul Uerling, and Miss Helen Jean Voisine were recognized and welcomed into club membership by the president. Mrs. Raymond Schmidt, immediate past president who now resides in Marathon, Fla., was a special guest at the luncheon and was introduced by Mrs. Wehner.

Mrs. Clarence Peterson, Community Service Committee, requested donations of games, mittens, dolls, and toys for the "Christmas Baskets For Children" project which her committee sponsors. A letter from Mrs. Betty Leonard, social worker at the Medical Care Facility, was read asking club members to share their time and friendship with patients in the Facility.

"Hawaiian Holiday" a color film of life in the Islands, was shown by John Mincoff immediately after the luncheon.

Mrs. William Males and her hostess committee arranged the luncheon tables with fall blos-

Four Districts Remain Closed

By The Associated Press
Schools in four school districts in Michigan remain closed today as striking teachers and school officials stand at various stages of accord.

Schools in a fifth struck district opened Wednesday as 167 teachers returned to the classrooms under a court order issued by Wayne County Circuit Judge Benjamin Burdick for the Riverview district. About 3,000 pupils had been missing classes.

In Lincoln Park teachers, and citizens will meet tonight in a special forum designed to exchange views. The board has rejected a factfinder's report twice.

The board contended the factfinder's salary schedule of $7,000-12,000 would result in a $200,000 deficit for the district. The teachers say the board has the money. An audit of the books has been proposed by the board to settle the matter.

The Lincoln Park board has asked for an injunction putting the teachers back to work. The hearing is set for Friday before Circuit Judge George Bowles.

At Escors a stalemate situation exists. The board has turned down a factfinder's recommendation on wages. Again the board says it cannot raise the money needed to pay requested salaries. Teachers don't agree.

The other struck districts are Trenton and Taylor. Factfinding sessions continue.

Welfare Aid Demands Trouble Spreads Out

By The Associated Press
Developments in protest activities by mothers receiving welfare aid for dependent children were reported on three fronts Wednesday.

At St. Joseph, two policemen suffered cuts and bruises in tangles with a group of about 50 mothers seeking cash clothing allowances for their children.

A spokesman for some two dozen women at Pontiac said Wednesday a sit-in had been postponed at Department of Social Welfare offices after Oakland County Sheriff's men reportedly said any who did so would be arrested.

At Ann Arbor, eight persons were found guilty of criminal

Union Head Asks Public Employees Get Strike Right

LANSING (AP) — All public employees, except law enforcement officers, should have the right to strike, a national union spokesman told the Michigan Municipal League Wednesday.

The city and townships officials, gathered for their 70th annual convention at Lansing, expressed dissent among themselves when Robert Hastings, executive assistant to the national president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees made their flat statement.

Hastings ducked out, however, before the question and answer period of a panel on employee relations, pleading another engagement. Some who wanted to challenge his assertion didn't get the chance.

A federation union local recently staged a walkout at the Lincoln Park distribution center of the state Liquor Control Commission. It was the first strike in Michigan by unionized workers under state civil service.

Union Hospital Strike
The union also is strong in some state hospitals and state Civil Service Commission members have expressed fears the union might strike one of the hospitals.

Workers under state civil service also should have the right to strike, Hastings declared.

"All workers should have the right to withhold their services," he said.

Jail penalties and fines, such as are imposed in New York State, have not stopped strikes there, Hastings said, citing several.

The other struck districts are Trenton and Taylor. Factfinding sessions continue.

Four Districts Remain Closed

By The Associated Press
Schools in four school districts in Michigan remain deserted today as striking teachers and school officials stand at various stages of accord.

Schools in a fifth struck district opened Wednesday as 167 teachers returned to the classrooms under a court order issued by Wayne County Circuit Judge Benjamin Burdick for the Riverview district. About 3,300 pupils had been missing classes.

In Lincoln Park teachers, and citizens will meet tonight in a special forum designed to exchange views. The board has rejected a factfinder's report twice.

The board contended the factfinders salary schedule of $7,000-12,500 would result in a $300,000 deficit for the district. Teachers say the board has the money. An audit of the books has been proposed by the board to settle the matter.

The Lincoln Park board has asked for an injunction putting the teachers back to work. The hearing is set for Friday before Circuit Judge George Bowles.

At Escorpe a stalemate situation exists. The board has turned down a factfinder's recommendation on wages. Again the board says it cannot raise the money needed to pay requested salaries. Teachers don't agree.

The other struck districts are Trenton and Taylor. Factfinding sessions continue.

Union Head Asks Public Employees Get Strike Right

LANSING (AP) — All public employees, except law enforcement officers, should have the right to strike, a national union spokesman told the Michigan Municipal League Wednesday.

The city and townships officials, gathered for their 70th annual convention at Lansing, grumbled dissent among themselves when Robert Hastings, executive assistant to the national president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees made their flat statement.

Emphasize Alternatives
Jerome Lefkowitz, deputy chairman of the New York State Public Employment Relations Board, said he thought the right to strike should not be brought over from private employment to the public sector.

"The emphasis should be on alternatives to the strike threat," he said.

"Despite the penalties, if the unions are big enough, they probably can get away with it," Lefkowitz admitted of the strike tactic.

New York teachers have such a large union, he said, that massive fines against them for striking only added up to 25 cents per member a day.

"The road to disaster," he warned, "is paved with idealism which says it has the right to disobey laws."

Urge Arbitration
Saginaw Mayor Henry G. Marsh told league members who should stick to their opposition to compulsory arbitration.

Such a compulsory arbitration law first passed both houses of the Michigan Legislature but was defeated in the Senate when an amendment proposed fines of as much as $10,000 a year for non-compliance with the law.

Hearing Opened In School Busing Suit

By DAVE ANDREWS
MARQUETTE — The secretary of the Escanaba Area Public Schools Board of Education, Dr. Donald Alimenti, and Superintendent of Schools Luther Barrett were witnesses today at the opening of a "show cause" hearing on school busing before Circuit Judge Bernard Davidson in Marquette.

Delayed because of criminal matters before the Marquette Court, the hearing did not get under way until 11 a.m., was adjourned at noon, and resumed at 1:30 p.m.

The two witnesses were called by Atty. Nino Green, who represents 10 Delta County mothers and their 44 children, plaintiffs in the action seeking to have school bus operation resumed.

Mother In Court
Dr. Alimenti, testified regarding board action and policy, using the board's 1968 minutes (which were admitted as plaintiff's Exhibit No. 1) as source of testimony.

Supt. Barrett testified concerning the school district's financial position and its budgeting problems, which caused the board to suspend bus transportation to avoid deficit spending.

The School District's counsel is Atty. Thomas Nordberg, of the legal firm of F. M. Thrun, Lansing.

The 10 plaintiff mothers were present in the court room, but not their 44 children. By stipulation the facts of the case were agreed upon, including the fact the buses are not operating.

All members of the Board of Education and Supt. Barrett were present in the court.

Expert Retained
Nordberg, an expert in school law, was retained by the Board of Education at a special meeting Monday to represent the Escanaba Area district, the members of the school board and Barrett.

The suit was filed last week in Circuit Court in Delta County after the school board in a 4 to 3 vote rejected a proposal for immediate restoration of bus service.

Bus transportation was eliminated from school services as part of over $200,000 in spending reductions ordered after the Aug. 19 millage defeat. Parents from rural areas affected by the transportation cutback protested to no avail at the Sept. 10 board meeting.

The suit charged that children of rural areas are being effectively denied a public education because of the location of their residences. It said that the families listed do not have sufficient financial ability other transportation to classes on a sustained basis.

Green, while conceding that the Board of Education does have a certain degree of discretionary power in matters like student transportation, said the bus cutback was an "abuse" of that power.

Respect "Mandate"

The hearing today was called to give the Board of Education opportunity to "show cause" why a Writ of Mandamus should not be issued ordering resumption of the bus transportation program.

In making the spending cuts, the Board of Education said it was following the public "mandate" to reduce school spending to the level of income. The Board in advance of the millage election said it would implement the cutbacks if the tax proposal was defeated.

The Escanaba Area school district operated in 1967-68 at a deficit and the board's position was that it would not continue to operate on a deficit financing basis.

H. McNamara Dies Thursday

Harry R. McNamara, 82, of Kipling died Thursday morning at the Iron Mountain V.A. Hospital where he had been a patient for three weeks.

He was born Sept. 16, 1886 in Fort Wayne, Ind. and had been employed as a logger and woodsman in the area. His wife, the former Eva Thomas died in 1953. Mr. McNamara was a veteran of WW I. He is survived by several nieces and nephews.

Friends may call at the Skrakski Funeral Home from 7 to 9:30 p.m. today and complete funeral services will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the funeral home with the Rev. William Verheist officiating. Burial will be in Fernwood Cemetery.

Monday is "Water Day" in the City of Gladstone.

It also is an election day as voters of the community will go to the polls to ballot on three proposals jointly designed to provide the city with a new water filtration plant.

No New Taxes

All registered voters of the City of Gladstone will be eligible to vote on the two charter amendments. Only qualified voters who own property assessed for taxes within the city or the lawful husband or wife of such person is eligible to vote on the bonding proposal.

Although the bond issue, if approved, will authorize issue of general obligation bonds against all property in Gladstone, the city does not plan any additional taxes to meet the retirement schedule of the bonds.

Live Grenade Is Found On Delta County Roadway

State Police of the Gladstone post today are calling in a demolition squad from the K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base to deal with a live rifle grenade found on a Delta County Road 521 in Ford River Township.

The grenade (similar in explosive power to a hand grenade but capable of being projected a distance by firing it from a rifle) was found by Evan Vallquette of Schaffer. State Police picked it up and have it to a charge of simple assault against Joseph Hillewaert, 75, former Delta County undersheriff.

Officers said they do not know where the grenade came from or how it may have been transported and lost on the roadway in the county.

Officers are also investigating the breaking and entering of a Delta County Road Commission tool shed in Stonington, where gasoline and tools were taken from the gravel pit location.

The larceny of two planters complete with flowers from the front of the Gift Shop in Rapid River is also being investigated. The theft was reported on Thursday.

State Police have issued traffic court notices to Lloyd Meshigaud, Wilson and Donald Cretnes, Gladstone Rte. 1, both for no proof of insurance; and Lawrence Chouinard Jr., Gladstone Rte. 1, expired driver's license.

possibility of carrying out a heart transplant for Barnum at the U-M hospital.

No Insurance

Until Aug. 19, money from the clinical research program of the National Institutes of Health had been paying for transplant preparations at the medical center.

The money ran out on that day, hospital officials said. Barnum had no insurance to cover medical costs.

A day later, the hospital's associate director, Dr. Roger B. Nelson, reported that "some generous people have come along with funds and we're moving again." He said the money was being donated by individuals and organizations.

The hospital has estimated Barnum's transplant could cost as much as $40,000.

Surgery and the first week's recuperation bore an estimated price tag of $5,000, Nelson said. Barnum's daily bill in the hospital's intensive care unit prior to the transplant was said to be $100.

The recipient was transferred to U-M Medical Center from the Veterans Administration Hospital in Ann Arbor where he had first gone when Barnum's chronic heart condition became serious.

The medical center has become known throughout Michigan for its success in kidney transplants. It also is a center for treatment of critical burn cases.

Gladstone Votes On Water Plant Bonding Monday

"Yes" votes are needed on all three proposals to permit the city to proceed with its present plans, Henrikson said.

Voting booths in the City Hall will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

No New Taxes

All registered voters of the City of Gladstone will be eligible to vote on the two charter amendments. Only qualified voters who own property assessed for taxes within the city or the lawful husband or wife of such person is eligible to vote on the bonding proposal.

Although the bond issue, if approved, will authorize issue of general obligation bonds against all property in Gladstone, the city does not plan any additional taxes to meet the retirement schedule of the bonds.

Henrikson explained that revenue from water rates, which were increased last year in anticipation of construction of a new plant, will be sufficient to meet all but about $12,000 of the annual premium. He said that the city plans to use surplus funds from the city electric utility to meet that $12,000.

Proposals Listed

Plans call for construction of the new plant on Saunders Point with ground breaking expected next spring.

The proposals are:

1. Shall the City of Gladstone borrow the sum of not to exceed $810,000 and issue its general obligation bonds therefor, for the purpose of acquiring and constructing additions and improvements to the water supply and distribution system of the city, consisting of a new water treatment plant, and additional water mains...

2. Shall Section 1 of Chapter IX of the Gladstone City Charter be amended to increase the charter bonding limitation of the city from eight per cent to 10 per cent of the assessed value of all taxable property in the city?

3. Shall Section 4 of Chapter IX of the Gladstone City Charter be amended to eliminate the requirement for equal annual principal installments for bonds of the city?
